

Kevin Paul Boucher

512.917.7575

Front-End Web Developer

LinkedIn · Git · SO · kevin@kevinboucher.com

Veteran front-end developer and interface designer interested in developing elegant and robust user experiences for web-based applications.

JavaScript

- MVC/MVVM (Ember/Ember-cli, Angular, React, KnockoutJs)
- TypeScript
- jQuery
- Ajax
- ES6
- Unit testing (Mocha/QUnit)

Server-side

- Node.js
- Hapi.js
- Nginx
- Bash
- T-SQL (PostgreSQL/MySQL/MS SQL)
- C#.NET
- PHP

HTML

- Semantic markup
- Accessibility
- Web standards
- HTML5
- SVG

Tools

- VS Code
- SublimeText
- Git
- ESLint
- YUIDoc
- Atlassian suite (Jira, Bitbucket, Confluence, SourceTree)
- Paw (HTTP client)
- Navicat (DB admin)
- Jenkins
- Photoshop

CSS

- SASS/Less
- Media-queries (responsive)
- Materialize.css
- Bootstrap
- Stylelint
- Typography

Experience

Sr. UI Developer

Xtivia

5/2017–present

Senior UI developer focused on delivering themes and Angular/React JavaScript applications in a Liferay CMS environment.

- Liferay CMS theme development (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Freemarker, Java)
- Developed Angular based customer service management knowledge base for BCBS Alabama
- Refactored, translated and enhanced JavaScript based hearing test application for Amplifon USA
- Mentored junior developers
- Implemented front-end development processes
- Git administration

Developer IV

Q2

11/2013–2/2017

Led mobile development team for Q2 eBanking Platform and led initial development phase of Q2 SMART targeting and messaging platform.

- Led mobile development team focused on mobile presentation, user settings and device interactivity
- Led initial development of Q2 SMART marketing platform.
- Single-page JavaScript apps (Ember, ember-cli)
- API development (Ember Data, Node, HapiJs)
- DB development (PostgreSQL)
- Git administration
- Scrum master

UX Designer/Developer
Texas.gov
4/2012–9/2013

Responsible for design & development of The Official Website of the State of Texas along with design, development and maintenance of an array of web-based applications across a variety of platforms.

- Designed & developed standards-compliant, HTML5, mobile-first responsive portal in SharePoint
- Developed a WordPress based UX Style Guide complete with code samples and preview mode
- Developed new SharePoint webparts to replace existing static HTML content on Texas.gov portal
- Mentored UX interns

UI Engineer
Incisent Technologies
10/2009–3/2012

Responsible for front-end architecture, development and support of web-based automotive retail online-marketing software package.

- Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript for ASP.NET web-forms and MVC applications
- Collaborated with product management team to develop interface designs, interactivity patterns, mockups and functional prototypes
- Observed and participated in numerous user-testing sessions
- Performed client-side optimization (compression/sprites/best-practices)
- Middle-tier and database development

Web Developer SolarWinds 3/2009–9/2009	Contracted through Modis IT to provide web development support for SolarWinds' corporate website. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript for ASP.NET web-forms website• Graphic production (slicing design comps)
------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Software Engineer Nets To Ladders 10/2006–3/2009	Responsible for ASP.NET web forms development in Microsoft CRM based web-application. Also responsible for development of consumer facing websites and tools. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript for ASP.NET web-forms application• UI/UX design, mockups, prototyping, graphic production• Design & build internal development process tools• Corporate web-site management• Middle-tier and database development
----------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Front-End Developer Tipping Point 10/2005–5/2007	Contracted through Modis IT to redesign and rebuild the web-based interface for Tipping Point's embedded browser-based hardware management application. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript• UI/UX design, graphic production• Usability testing
----------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Front-End Developer Builder Homesite 4/2004–9/2005	Initially hired as a contractor to produce the front-end code for the Envision suite of applications which led to a position as front-end developer responsible for all front-end production, maintenance and troubleshooting. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand-coded web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript• Interface design, graphic production, mockups, prototypes• Middle-tier development
------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Web Developer Lombardi Software 6/2000–8/2002	Responsible for design, development and administration of Lombardi Software's corporate website, intranet and corporate web applications. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript• UI/UX design, graphic production• Intranet management• Designed & built internal tools as needed (Time & Expense reporting application/Client-facing Issue-tracking system)• Middle-tier and database development
-------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Web Designer/ Developer Self-employed	Worked with a variety of clients to develop custom web sites, applications, WordPress implementations and front-end code.
-----------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

7/1999–present

- Hand-coded cross-browser, web-standards compliant HTML/CSS/JavaScript
- Front-end architecture and development
- UI/UX design, graphic production
- WordPress implementations
- Middle-tier and database development

“Well done is better than well said.” —Benjamin Franklin